

Simplify Event Registration and Newsletter Selection Online

Imagine giving your clients and prospects the ability to register for events or select the materials of interest to them with the click of a mouse! With the combination of Personalized Mass Email and Web-Based Data Updates, the choices are limitless: attendees can RSVP for events, indicate their food preference and/or invite others, select which newsletters they would like to receive, update other information, or contact you directly, all in a secure web environment customized for your firm.

ContactEase tracks all responses and updates automatically, saving hours of data entry and giving you the information that you need to ensure that your clients and prospects needs are met.
